

pittsburgh FRINGE

Performing Arts Festival
April 6-8, 2018
Official Brochure

Welcome to the 2018 Pittsburgh Fringe - our Fifth Fringe Festival here in the Steel City! One of the things I love most about Fringe Festivals is that each one occupies a paradoxical place in the arts world. On the one hand, the Fringe phenomena is absolutely massive - every year there are over 200 Fringe Festivals on five Continents. There are literally tens of thousands of fringe theatre performances every year throughout the world. On the other hand, every fringe festival is local, unique, and never to be repeated. When you attend a performance here at the Pittsburgh Fringe, you are celebrating the Steel City while taking part in a worldwide arts phenomenon.

The beauty of Fringe Festivals is their closeness to the local, spontaneous, and independent ethos we celebrate in 1960's art happenings, 1970's punk rock, and the 1990's DIY scene. Our Fringe is unjuried. No group of sponsors or donors choose the shows, no committee shapes the festival according to a theme - instead we throw open our stages to performers and you, the audience, curate your own experience from our 88 performances of 37 unique shows. This is theater at its most democratic and unfiltered. The venues are small - many are even in temporary art spaces. The performances are intimate.

This year we encourage you to binge the fringe! Choose the shows which excite or intrigue you, take some friends, debate and celebrate the art you have seen. We are featuring local shows - but also shows which are touring nationally and internationally.

See you at a show!

Who-Ha - PG-13 - $8

Who-Ha is a performance dance piece that showcases feminine hygiene, feminine characteristics, and feminine oppositions in pop culture that are fueled by the straight socially constructed male gaze. One can only do damage and harm to themselves if one chooses to be blind to the space in which they function daily.

SAT - 7:30 PM
SUN - 12:50 PM

Andrew Frank: MACROCOSM - R- $8

MACROCOSM is an hour of cerebral, imaginative, and empathetic stand up comedy exploring the totality of existence. Through a series of jokes we will explore our species' position in the grandiose system of Life, the network of abstract principles that comprise modern civilization, and the complex moral framework of the 21st Century.

FRI - 9:00 PM
SAT - 9:15 PM
SUN - 4:10 PM

Krish Mohan's Empathy on Sale - R- $8

Krish is a socially conscious Indian standup comedian engaging audiences with his idea based stand-up tackling race, religion, immigration, political & social issues. His highly rated shows have been featured at IndyFringe, Pittsburgh Fringe, the Philadelphia Fringe Arts Festival & the Capital Fringe. He has also been featured on NPR and in the Arch City Comedy Festival.

FRI - 10:30 PM
SAT - 6:00 PM
SUN - 7:15 PM

Children of Heaven - R - 18+ - $8

Lucy has returned home after living with the Lilith and the Children of Heaven.

As Harvey tries to bring Lucy back to her biological family, we meet the Children of Heaven and learn about their mission. As Harvey gets to the heart of Lucy's devotion, everyone involved has their faith and worldview tested.

FRI - 5:15 PM
SAT - 6:00 PM
SUN - 11:20 AM

Bottle Rockets - PG - Free

Following last year's Best Local award-winning show, "The Booth," Thoreau, NM -- A Production Company continues its tradition of bringing well-made plays to the Pittsburgh Fringe Festival. "Bottle Rockets" is a 3-person domestic comedy examining legacy and what we choose to communicate with each other, filtered through one family's dynamic, and the use of technology.

FRI - 8:00 PM
SAT - 8:00 PM
SUN - 8:00 PM

Falkland - The War the World Forgot - PG-13 - $15

Two unlikely friends find a camaraderie against a backdrop of bitter conflict, questionable politics, and a moral debate waged an ocean away. The extraordinary story of the ordinary people of a tiny island at the bottom of the world, and the war that changed their lives and landscape forever. Selected BEST OF FEST - Orlando Sentinel - Orlando Fringe 2017.

SAT - 8:30 PM
SUN - 5:15 PM

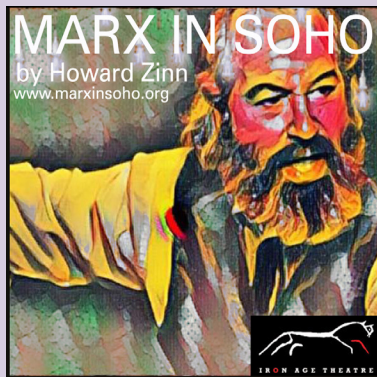

To My Unborn Child: A Love Letter from Fred Hampton - PG-13 - $15

Murdered by Chicago police as he lay beside his pregnant lover, visionary Black Panther Fred Hampton preached a compassionate revolution against racist brutality, poverty, and capitalism. Iron Age Theatre freezes a moment in time as Hampton shares his vision of justice and dignity with his unborn son. Richard Bradford's original work will challenge and inspire. "Power to the People!"

To my Unborn Child:

MARX IN SOHO by Howard Zinn - PG - $15

Marx launches a passionate, funny, and moving defense of his ideas in Zinn's brilliant, timely play: 'MARX IN SOHO' examines Karl Marx's life and passion for radical change, and challenges audiences to consider social justice issues. Marx uses current news and events to show how his ideas resonate today and captures how a humane alternative to capitalism is possible!

#vanlife - R - $15

In a world where the perfectly tailored photo gallery now defines your success, beauty, mature pallet, and ultimate happiness, what happens when your life is anything BUT a pretty picture? You move into a van. You BECOME unhinged. You document everything.

#vanlife

FRI - 6:00 PM
SAT - 7:45 PM
SUN - 5:45 PM

Shakespeare Annotated - PG - $15

Who would guess an hour of Shakespeare could spiral so out of control? Brawling Bard attempts to present a program of classic monologues and scenes, complete with explanatory footnotes and commentary to help you follow along. But footnotes becomes bossy and commentary upstages performers, tempers flare, and art turns on academe in a wild brawl over the Bard.

FRI - 8:30 PM
SAT - 1:15 PM
SUN - 3:45 PM

St. Mary's Lyceum - Upstairs

It Sounded Like A Good Idea In My Dreams - PG-13 - $8

"Dreams" jumps from absurdist jokes to anecdotes to Vaudeville routines complete with costume changes, everything short of tumbling--intentional tumbling, that is. This manic, mildly menacing menagerie moves with lightning-quick perplexity, flirting with reality though never quite making it. No second chances, no third wheels, no fourth walls, just hijinks of the highest order in morally affordable packaging.

FRI - 7:30 PM
SAT - 4:15 PM
SUN - 8:55 PM

St. Mary's Lyceum - Upstairs

No Oddjob - PG-13 - $8

David Lawson's one-man show about video games. With stories about secretly playing an ultra violent Nazi-killing game at a Jewish Community Center, a former boss with a Grand Theft Auto-related secret, playing Pokemon Go in historically insensitive places, how Donald Trump and other politicians have tried to censor video games, and more.

FRI - 6:05 PM
SAT - 9:35 PM
SUN - 1:20 PM

St. Mary's Lyceum Downstairs

TENTACLES - R-18+ - $15

Slide down the slippery slope of consent and fantasy through the lens of one slimy adult-film genre. Grad student Tessa is presenting her thesis on feminist ravishment fantasies when the manterruptions of former-flame-turned-porn-star Chris thwart her presentation. Fantasies slither into life. This funny, moving play leaves us wondering how, in the #metoo era, we reconcile our fantasies with our feminism.

FRI - 9:15 PM
SAT - 3:45 PM
SUN - 12:00 PM

SAT - 7:30 PM

Silver Screen - PG-13

Silver Screen, a rock band from Johnstown, PA will be performing their first EP Inertia along with some NEW songs. The EP is available on iTunes and Spotify.

The EP was recorded and produced in Monroeville PA by Michael O'Malley.

Members of the band include:
Stephen Platt: "Lead Vocals,
Rhythm Guitar

Ben Ressler "Lead Guitar
Alex Richardson: "Bass Guitar,
Vocals: Austin Danel-Drums

Bonder the Rescue Dog - G - $8

Bonder the Rescue Dog is a light-hearted 40-minute puppet comedy. Kyle is a hyperactive boy, and his mother is having a hard time getting him to calm down. Bonder is a street dog, abandoned by his family. When these two find each other, they learn about love and loyalty. The show contains humor, action, and original songs.

FRI - 5:00 PM
SAT - 2:10 PM
SUN - 3:10 PM

How To Suffer Better - R-18+ - $15

What does it mean to suffer better? In this one-woman comedy show, six unlucky contestants from different walks of life present their struggles to you, the audience. Hosted by a drunk woman who strips for empowerment, you'll meet a musical hobo, lovelorn maid, sex-starved octogenarian, stressed clown, and angry teen before you vote to determine who's suffering the best.

FRI - 4:35 PM
SAT - 8:05 PM
SUN - 8:45 PM

St. Mary's Lyceum - Downstairs

Voice of Authority - R - $15

Dean can't believe his luck when he goes to work for his multi-millionaire uncle, especially when it lands him in a $19 million lawsuit with the US Department of Justice. Only Zachary, a retired ballet dancer with a penchant for matzoh ball soup, can save him now. A comedy solo show with music based on a true story.

FRI - 7:30 PM
SAT - 4:15 PM
SUN - 8:45 PM

Unitarian Church - Downstairs

Come As You Are - PG-13 - $8

Praised by City Newspaper (Rochester, NY) as a production "we want to see again," Come As You Are features intimate stories of having to change to conform to others' expectations. Following our featured storytellers, the audience will be invited to share their own experiences in an open-mic story-slam format.

SAT - 2:15 PM
SUN - 6:00 PM

St. Mary's Lyceum - Downstairs

Show Up - R - $15

Pete uses his decades of solo performance expertise to turn the cliches of the genre on their cliched heads. Using an arsenal of Post-it Notes, Pete transforms the real-life experiences of the audience into a comical story that's different each time. You get to control the content, set and sound for this socially-anxious show about YOU. And there's a party!

Johnross Exhibit- Free

Pittsburgh-based artist Johnross creates the unusual and exhilarating using common, recycled materials. His exceptional paintings, sculptures and furniture have their genesis in metal scraps, discarded fixtures, broken furniture, industrial machines, old doors, auto parts, appliance and electronics.

Johnross' unique approach to visual creation is the result of many years of perfecting his craft. His woodworking and metal welding background serves as a foundation for hand-stretched canvases (of any material and size) and furniture pieces. His extensive experimenting with all types of paints and polymers – and their chemical reactions – brings life and an urban feel to everything he designs.

In Loving Memory of Emily Selke

Emily Selke was a co-founder and crucial early contributor to the Pittsburgh Fringe. Her mother, Yvonne, was also an avid supporter of the Pittsburgh Fringe and served as a volunteer in our first year. Both Emily and Yvonne were victims of the air disaster over the Alps on March 24, 2015.

Emily had a bright future in the arts. She had worked at the Edinburgh Festival Fringe representing the Pittsburgh Fringe and she had attended Fringe University. Emily was the only American invited to attend the European Festivals Association's Atelier for Young Festival Managers, a training camp for future festival managers in Barcelona, Spain.

Emily was a joy to be around; she was instantly likeable, hard-working, and absolutely passionate about the arts. The arts community, and most especially the fringe festival community, needs young people like Emily with a passion for the arts and for festival management. We miss her, and every year the Pittsburgh Fringe's top award is named in her honor.

Featured Visual Artist on the 2018 Brochure and Web Design

Ana Franco is an emerging abstract artist from Venezuela currently living in Pittsburgh. She has been interested and excited in creating art since a young age. After becoming a Supply Chain

Professional, she found painting again as a space to relax and create colorful and inspiring pieces. Her main medium is acrylic paint, although she likes to experiment with soft pastels and different tools.

Without performance spaces our Fringe Festival could not go on. We are grateful to these businesses and organizations and recognize them as patrons and friends of the arts in Pittsburgh.

The Pittsburgh Fringe also thanks its 2017 – 2018 team:

Kelci Degnian, Julie Mercik, Xela Batchelder, Briana Ryan, Ian Goedert, Lingen Yogo, Kayla Goncalves, Macy Cain, Natalie Johnston, Noelle Skoda, Sara Lewis, Megan Pulver, and Devin Sherman.

A big thanks to our artists who participated in the 2018 festival!

The Pittsburgh Fringe wouldn't be possible without the blood, sweat and tears of our many volunteers particularly, our organizing committee. It is their love of Fringe and helping artists that keeps this festival alive!

Pittsburgh Fringe thanks those who helped along the way: Natalie Gloady, Tim Colbert, Dan Stiker, William Batchelder, Melinda Rush, Cody Walters, Chelsea Debe, Rachel Mangan, Rachel Philipp, Stephanie Tress, Joe Esposito, Karie Goedert, Amanda Hershberger, Frank Halling, Natalie Kovacic, Daniel Little, Jeremy Kinney,
