FRINGE

APRIL 15 - 17

The Pittsburgh Fringe

Fringes are uncensored theatre festivals featuring mostly performance art - from traditional theatre to puppetry to spoken word. The first Fringe started in Edinburgh, Scotland in 1947, and has grown into one of the biggest arts festivals in the world. The Pittsburgh Fringe Festival supports adventurous and exploratory performing artists, in the Fringe tradition, by showcasing their uncensored artistic expression in a professional environment to equally as adventurous audiences and opportunities.

We see to enhance this connection through performances, continuing education, workshops, discussions, and forums. Pittsburgh Fringe Festival is a fiscally sponsored project of Fractured Atlas, a non-profit arts service organization. Contributions for the purposes of Pittsburgh Fringe Festival must be made payable to Fractured Atlas and are tax-deductible to the extent permitted by law.

Fringe Central

This year's Pittsburgh Fringe is centered on the Northside of Pittsburgh and Arnold's Tea will serve as Fringe Central. Located on 502 East Ohio St., Arnold's Tea is your place to find answers to your questions about shows, locations, tickets, volunteering, and more!

5 Hams Fairy Tales

Thoreau, NM - A Production Company

Featured

Thoreau, NM – A Production Company presents 5 Hams Fairy Tales! A modernized take on the old Rocky & Bullwinkle shows – think Shrek and Vaudeville smashed together. Written by Norm D. Plume and James Michael Shoberg, 5 Hams is a comedic series of puns and slapstick-filled skits – just enough shtick to stick to your ribs! Come enjoy some song, some dance, some seltzer down yer pants!

Mad Hatter

Pittsburgh's musical improvisation company offers spontaneous, entertaining, and exciting ingenuity! Watch as the actors create a musical on the spot, with no prior planning, using audience suggestions. Each performance is entirely and completely unique and creates a crazy world full of wonderful characters and crazy situations.

Best Intentions

Shark Eat Muffin Theatre Company

Mad Hatter

Best intentions are what Angelica and Emilia, two modern adaptations of the often-overlooked women from Shakespeare's Othello and Romeo and Juliet, definitely had before they ended up trapped in a room with a kitten puzzle. Through revealing their darkest secrets, they discover that escape requires honesty, as their "best intentions" are not an excuse in the eyes of the law.

Confessions of a Manic Pixie Dream Girl

Anna Bennett

Featured

This one-woman multimedia experience introduces a geek girl, a dancer, a lovable nut job, and a blonde bombshell, then shakes up their comfy routines by bringing the unlikely women together in a support group for so-called "manic pixie dream girls" in this gleefully postmodern pop-culture romp. Sure, it's a loving critique of gender representation in popular media, but there's also live music, physical comedy, cute rom-com boys, and fourth-wall tom-foolery.

Critters

Puppets in Performance

Mad Hatter

Critters is a puppet show of original, humorous skits and songs featuring fuzzy woodland creatures! Intended for all audiences, it teaches about the habits of our furry friends, while entertaining too. You'll laugh when a skunk tries to sell perfume, a cat and possum compare their lives, a dangerous dog meets his match, and more. Come join the fun!

Moquette Volante

Mad Hatter

Four Voices... One Story explores and celebrates cultural similarities by bringing four different versions of the classic Cinderella tales to life, told as one story by women of four different backgrounds. Experience the kindness, the toil, the transformation and the reward as young heroines in Kenya, Italy, the Czech Republic, and India strive to find their princes – or their fortunes.

It's Who You Know

Chambers Stevens

Mad Hatter

On stage there is a table with a large box with hundreds of cards inside, each with the name of a different actor, celebrity, musician, or writer on it. Chambers pulls a card and tells a true story about his run-in with that person. Stevens' exciting new one-man show is different every time, sometimes funny or touching, but always exciting.

BOOM Concepts

Featured

A historical diagram of afro-futuristic existence, this physical theater work provides a look into Street Deities and their relationships to the lineage of diasporic people. Audiences will witness the creation of a #blacklivesmatter #shrine after traveling through #blackpower portals. Portals that provide a space where marginalized voices can respond to corporate white supremacist efforts of gentrification, erasure and appropriation.

Beautiful Cadaver Project

Four characters explore complicated relationships with each other and Pittsburgh through realistic and surrealistic means. Six playwrights, known as the Beautiful Cadaver Project, developed this play via the exquisite corpse model. After agreeing on character names and a location, each playwright developed two scenes, not knowing what the others created. Then, the playwrights pieced the scenes together, forming Northeastsouthwest.

Cup-A-Jo Productions

Mad Hatter

Passing Through is a world-premiere play with music devised by local musicians, poets and theatre-makers. The story takes place in the upstairs of a pub on the North Side. Born out of Pittsburgh's open-mic scene, the performance follows the lives of three performers both on and off stage. This documentary style play is a story about love, purpose, growing up, falling down, figuring it out, and singing about it. Did we mention an original score?

In Loving Memory

Emily Selke and Yvonne Selke

Emily Selke was a co-founder and crucial member of the Pittsburgh Fringe. Her mother was also an avid supporter and volunteer at the Pittsburgh Fringe our first year. Emily and her mother Yvonne were victims of the air disaster in the Alps on March 24, 2015. In addition to being a co-founder of the Pittsburgh Fringe, Emily had worked at the Edinburgh Fringe Festival representing the Pittsburgh Fringe through Fringe University. She was also the only American invited to attend the European Festivals Associations (EAP)'s Atelier for Young Festival Managers training camp for future festival managers in Barcelona, Spain.

She was instantly likeable, passionate about the arts, hard working, and a joy to be around. The arts community, and especially the fringe festival community, needs young people like Emily with a passion for the arts and festival management. We dedicate our top award in their honor.
